

HAVE YOUR SAY

on the adult autism strategy for England

The Government is looking for your help and advice in order to improve services for adults with autism (including Asperger syndrome).

This is your chance to have your say!

You have until 15 September 2009
to respond to the Government's consultation.

There are a number of ways you can get involved and tell the Government how it can make life better for adults with autism:

1. Online: complete an online questionnaire at:
<http://adultautismstrategy.dialoguebydesign.net>

2. By post: download a copy of the consultation document and fill in a copy of the consultation and questionnaire at:
http://www.dh.gov.uk/en/Consultations/Liveconsultations/DH_098587, then return it to the address given in the document.
To get a copy of the consultation document and questionnaire sent to you by post, contact dh@prolog.uk.com or call 0300 123 1002 and ask for document number 295339.

3. By email: Write to autism@dh.gsi.gov.uk with your comments.

4. In person: organise your own local event. Email autism@dh.gsi.gov.uk to ask for a toolkit to help you plan your event. Alternatively, you may be able to get involved with local focus groups and interviews that are being organised. To find out more, go to:
<http://oladultautism.org.uk> or call 020 7861 2877

The consultation document and questionnaire cover five topics: health, social inclusion, employment, choice and control, and training.

There are several questions on each of these topics, but you do not have to answer every question – just answer the questions you want to.

The Government will read all the comments that you give in order to help it decide how to improve services for adults with autism.
